

Dr. Marcelo Carvalho de Andrade

Marcelo has more than 35 years of experience working in the area of socioeconomic development and implementation of sustainable corporate, governmental and non-governmental projects.

He is a medical doctor, former Brazilian olympic rowing athlete and expeditionary. During his expeditions, he had his first direct contact with environmental problems caused by non-sustainable development. It was through these experience that he developed the model for Pro Natura as an institution that combined economic growth with human development and quality of life.

Dr Marcelo de Andrade is also involved in the Private Equity investment sector for 30 years, he is a co-founder of Earth Capital one of the largest private equity firm exclusively dedicated to sustainable Investments.